

Even though New Jersey has one of the strongest do not call programs in the country, I dont think it is strong enough. I am still getting unsolicited calls. And I think our no call program should be more restrictive, not watered down to match the federal program that the people making these calls support.